

Community Collaborations for Children

Purpose

Community Collaborations for Children (CCC) provides funding for community-based efforts that promote the safety and well-being of children and families. It provides funding to support a Statewide network of community-based, prevention focused services for families and children. The child's mental and physical health, safety and well-being are paramount concerns of CCC.

Goals

A key goal of CCC is to increase the strength and stability of families and to prevent child abuse and neglect, thereby keeping children safely in their homes.

Funding Sources

This project is funded in whole or in part from federal, Kentucky Cabinet for Health, or other state funds.

Services

In Home

The Community Collaborations for Children (CCC) In Home Program provides trained, in-home family service associates to work in the home on a short-term basis with families. The associates identify family strengths as well as areas of concern. The strengths based approach to in home services is designed to promote safe, stable, healthy families and to prevent child abuse and neglect. Program staff also assists families in their ability to utilize community resources. Referrals are accepted through community partners, including but not limited to DCBS. Self-referrals are accepted.

Regional Network

The Barren River Regional Network is comprised of community partners and parents who work to reduce the risk of child abuse and neglect in local communities as well as to strengthen parents and families. Goals include but are not limited to: prevent child abuse and neglect, develop leadership roles for meaningful involvement of parents in development, operation, evaluation and oversight of programs and services, build awareness of child abuse and neglect, and targeting and educating the local community. The Regional Network provides funding for faith-based fatherhood initiatives and Child Abuse Prevention Month activities and events.

Mission Statement

"We team with community partners to provide human services with dignity and respect, empowering people in Southern Kentucky to achieve stability and economic security."
